We seek to empower economically disadvantaged children and youth (ages 12-14) by supporting their families and cultural organizations that build a shared understanding and commit -ment to our community.

We want to fund programs such as arts, civic and community engagement. We want to bring actual people together to build a shared community.

We seek to enhance the vitality of New Haven, Connecticut, through strategic grants, initiatives and investments. We support arts, education, civic and community programs, economic development initiatives, and generative research in the region.

Our mission is to support programs and initiatives that affect positive change now and in the future.

To improve the lives of children/families, caregivers and the environment through the advancement of successful programs of the Carolyn Foundation.

McKnight Christian Foundation currently holds $4 million in social impact generating bonds in community development. We track our investments’ performance, including the bond’s impact, and review annually to ensure alignment with our mission.

Stability and well-being.

Supporting educators and others to inspire, nurture, educate and guide them to achieve long-term stability and well-being.

We seek to enhance the vitality of New Haven, Connecticut, through strategic grants, initiatives and investments. We support arts, education, civic and community programs, economic development initiatives, and generative research in the region.

Our strategic grantmaking is our highest priority, particularly our Climate Change objectives. We screen to assure that we are not unwittingly holding investments that run counter to our mission. We are a positive force for good.

Investment income and other investment holdings have gone through major portfolio reallocations. We now hold $12.5 million in carbon-linked bonds and $2.1 million in social impact generating bonds. In addition, we recently sold all of our holdings in fossil fuels.

We seek to empower economically disadvantaged children and youth (ages 12-14) by supporting their families and cultural organizations that build a shared understanding and commitment to our community. We want to fund programs such as arts, civic and community engagement. We want to bring actual people together to build a shared community.

Carolyn Foundation has been making foundation-initiated grants for the past 20 years. These grants are intended to support organizations in the broad areas of Climate Change in the upper Midwest, Community Vitality and Children and Youth.

In the upper Midwest, Carolyn Foundation supports a range of organizations working to promote clean energy and education. Our other investment holdings have gone through major portfolio reallocations. We now hold $12.5 million in carbon-linked bonds and $2.1 million in social impact generating bonds. We sell all of our holdings in fossil fuels.

To support programs and initiatives that affect positive change now and in the future.